Dear esteemed members,

WISH YOU HAPPY DOCTORS' DAY!!!

July month belongs to us and we are all set to celebrate 'Doctors' Day'- to commemorate the achievements of our legendary physician and the second Chief Minister of West Bengal, Bharat Ratna Late Dr. B.C.Roy. As we have resolved to celebrate it on the designated day, i.e on 1st July, IMA KSB has celebrated the event in a very appropriate way on the same day, in our IMA House in the presence of limited number of members and a facility to witness through video conference for the rest. Congratulations to the Doctors' day Award winners!.

“The patient will never care how much you know until they know how much you care.”

With the number of infected people on the rise everyday and hospitals teeming with hundreds of people, it has never been more important to appreciate the efforts that doctors make to ensure that patients sufficiently recover from whatever may be ailing them and continue to remain healthy. I feel this is an apt time to enlighten on Doctor-Patient Relationship (DPR). DPR is usually developed when a physician attends to a patient's medical needs via checkup, diagnosis and treatment in an agreeable manner. The DPR is a “crossroads” that consists of several concepts, among which we can point out the doctor-patient communication, the participation of the patient in decision-making and patient satisfaction.

The relationship between patient and doctor has been analysed since the early 1900's. Prior to when medicine was more science than art, physicians worked to refine their bedside manner, as cures were often impossible and treatment had limited effect. In the middle of the century when science and technology emerged, interpersonal aspects of healthcare were overshadowed. There is now a renewed interest in medicine as a social process. A doctor can do as much harm to a patient with the slip of a word as with the slip of a knife.

The good physician treats the disease; the great physician treats the patient who has the disease.

-William Osler.

Have you ever wondered what patients want from an encounter with a doctor?

- ❖ Patients want to be able to trust the competence and efficacy of their caregivers.
- ❖ Patients want to be able to negotiate the health care system effectively and to be treated with dignity and respect.
- ❖ Patients want to understand how their sickness or treatment will affect their lives, and they often fear that their doctors are not telling them everything they want to know.
- ❖ Patients want to discuss the effect their illness will have on their family, friends and finances.
- ❖ Patients worry about the future.
- ❖ Patients worry about and want to learn how to care for themselves away from the clinical settings.
- ❖ Patients want physicians to focus on their pain, physical discomfort and functional disabilities.

The DPR is an important determinant of quality health care. Until not very long ago, it was common for people to regard doctors as members of their families and the trust reposed in them extended to matters even beyond the medical needs of the family. Anecdotal information, however suggests that the DPR is becoming strained. The commercialization and specialization of the practice of medicine has placed a heavy reliance on technology at the cost of a meaningful interaction between health-care seekers and providers at a human level. The pressing demands on the Doctor's time and the heavy dependence on technology for diagnostic and therapeutic practices has perhaps diluted the personal touch that is so necessary for a conducive doctor-patient relationship. In addition, the DPR is affected by a multitude of sociocultural, economic, political and health system related determinants. Nowadays practices like corruption in the health management industry, inequality in the health care delivery and mushrooming of health insurance have altered the relationship between the Doctor and the Patient. The DPR is a key driver of clinical outcomes – both in promoting desired results and in preventing adverse outcomes.

The film Munna Bhai MBBS, remake of the film Patch Adams needs a mention here. It has been shown of-late on TV quite a number of times and many of us have seen it now. The film had nothing to do with morality of doctors; It was just a reminder to each one of us that the purpose of a doctor or any human in general should not be to simply delay the death of the patient, but to increase the person's quality of life. The role of a clown and a physician are the same – it's to elevate the possible and to relieve suffering.

“Men, who are occupied in the restoration of health to other men, by the joint exertion of skill and humanity, are above all the great of the earth.”

-Voltaire

Finally before I conclude, I would like to remind you to observe the Calendar of events World Population Day on 11th July, World Plastic Surgery Day on 15th July and World Breast Feeding Week during first week of August. Wish you all a safe and peaceful professional environment. The theme of this year Doctors' Day is “Lessen the mortality of COVID-19”. It includes awareness about asymptomatic hypoxia and early aggressive therapy. We have to learn to live with Corona. So my dear colleagues, Stay safe and take care.

Long live IMA.

- Dr Anita N Rao

He was the youngest of the five children of his parents. His mother died when he was 14 years of age and he learnt to share the responsibility of all household works.

President's Message

Dear esteemed members,

Hiring the technical method for communication will be the norm in the coming days. Keeping this in view we conducted the 847th State Working Committee meeting on 14.06.2020 at Benagaluru in Hybrid manner in which members attended through both virtually and through video conferencing.

Amidst the fear of Covid 19 the Doctors day was successfully celebrated at IMA House Benagaluru on 01-07-2020 in the same Hybrid manner in which Dr.Sudhakar.K. Minister for Medical Education of Government of Karnataka was the Chief guest who assured to ease the KPME registration & renewal process.

We had online webinar on the preparedness for the future to face the Covid 19. The response was overwhelming. I thank the speakers for sharing their wonderful experience.

The elections for the various posts of IMA KSB are on roll. I request all the braches to participate in this democratic festival.

The coronavirus pandemic is a test. It's a test of medical capacity and political will. It's a test of endurance and forbearance. It's a test, too, of a different kind of faith, in the strength of the ideas humans choose to help them form moral judgments and guide personal and social behavior. It's a test of where all humans stand.

What is right and what is wrong? What can individuals expect from society, and what can society expect of us as medical professionals? Should others make sacrifices for me, and vice versa? I hope the lessons we take from our country's experience with Covid-19 aren't about food or avoiding the spread of germs, but about how we treat the most vulnerable among us. A pandemic is no time to turn our eyes away from the sanctity of human life. In this regard I request all the district branches to take the responsibility to establish Corana Care Centers for the health care workers in their districts. I appreciate IMA branches like Tumakuru and Sirasi who have taken a lead in this regard.

Long Live IMA

- Dr. Madhusudana Kariganur

Celebrating Doctors' Day – A Tribute to the Healers

Happy Doctors day to all the doctors across Karnataka. 1st July of every year is celebrated as Doctors' day in the honor of Dr. B.C. Roy. On this day Doctors are honoured and remembered for their relentless service to humanity. Doctors day is tribute to all medical professionals who have ethically treated patients and served the society.

Doctors day was established in India in the year 1991 by Govt. of India. Doctors day is being celebrated on different dates in different countries. For e.g. in USA it is observed on March 30th, 3rd Dec in Cuba and 23rd August in Iran. In India, it is celebrated on 1st July in memory of late Dr. Bidhan Chandra Roy, the 2nd chief minister of west Bengal, who was a legendary physician by profession.

He was born on July 1st 1882 and died on same date in 1962, aged 80 years. He was one of the few people in history, who has obtained FRCS and MRCP degrees simultaneously. The service he rendered to the society was commendable, and he continued to treat patients in spite of being Chief Minister. He was honoured with the country's highest civilian award, Bharath Ratna on Feb 4th 1961 for his selfless and relentless service to the Society.

This year, i.e. 2020, Doctors day carries more importance and relevance because of the Corona pandemic. Today Doctors are frontline warriors in the war against corona. Our profession is in cross roads. We are caught in a dilemma about how to manage the situation. The Novel Corona Virus is on a killing spree all over the world. Many Doctors have been infected, and a significant number have lost their lives while treating these patients.

Doctors and health care workers are working laboriously for the welfare of the patients to minimize the damage to society. They not only have to treat the patients but also manage the nerves and pressures of families and friends. To fulfil this, they are attending the patients in person and staying connected with the relatives through phone and video calls.

The threat of them catching the disease and infecting their own families also looms large over them, due to which most of the doctors are staying away from their families. Some of the young professionals are working 15-19 hours a day.

Day by day, guidelines are changing, treatments are changing and newer modalities are being introduced. The Medical fraternity faces the challenge of staying up to date. Many of them are under severe stress and state of depression.

After completing his graduation in Mathematics, B.C. Roy applied for admission in both engineering and medical colleges. He chose to pursue medical studies in Calcutta Medical College.

In this hot and humid conditions wearing the PPE for more than 6 hours is a nightmare. They cannot go to toilet, cannot drink water nor eat anything. Communication is a problem. Some of them have developed blisters over their faces due to the pressure of N95 masks and protective goggles. Moreover, they have to be very cautious all the time to avoid exposure to the virus.

If Doctors become positive, they will be sent for isolation. Even otherwise, they have to go for self-quarantine for 14 days. There is an acute shortage of medical professionals everywhere. On this Doctors' day we need to appreciate and applaud the frontline Corona Warriors and give them due recognition for all the work they do against all odds. It is really hard for them to fight a prolonged battle against this deadly virus, which is highly contagious, and has no known cure. It is like a war with an invisible enemy who can attack you anywhere and anytime.

The celebration of Doctors day is an attempt to emphasize the value of Doctors in the society and to offer them respect for all the things they do to save the lives.

Hope we do get the due recognition in our society and people will stop criticizing, illtreating, assaulting the doctors and the health care workers in the days to come.

Long live the medical profession,

Long live IMA.

Sword of uncertainty

As the sword of uncertainty dangles over our heads
 Holding the pearls of lives in the delicate threads
 Each of us transformed into Heroes and Knights
 The outlook of the people has changed overnight.

An unseen enemy, and the target uncertain
 Tired of numbers growing, and shattered relations.
 The sick are attended to without a word uttered
 Where the kin won't touch the body at burial either.

Getting miserably exhausted with a new agreement
 Accepting to work under a banner of a 'New Normal'
 Drowned in our own sweat, that drips relentlessly
 And exhaustion shuns our confidence painfully

Applauds and diyas did perform a trivial trick,
 It upgraded our image that was already sick.
 It hurts us all when the rightful earning is denied
 A hungry stomach growled and a pained heart cried.

It is time to recognise the services rendered
 As money from pockets goes to the hospital vender
 Pray for health of the healer in this time so difficult
 You have a soldier waiting to fight the enemy occult
