Remembering A Colossus - Dr. B.C. Roy

In India, National Doctors' Day was first introduced by the Government of India in 1991 in the memory of the celebrated Physician Dr. Bidhan Chandra Roy who was born on and died on the same day. This remarkable man was not only a Physician, but also an educationist and freedom fighter.

Dr B C Roy was born on July 1 in 1882 in Patna, Bihar. He completed his medical graduation from Kolkata and went to London for his higher studies in the medical sciences. He returned to India in 1911 after completing his MRCP and FRCS degrees in London. In fact, this illustrious scholar is known to have completed both the degrees in just over two years. The same year, he began his medical career as a Physician.

He joined the Calcutta Medical College as a teaching staff member. He later moved to the Campbell Medical School and then onto Carmichael Medical College. He was a member of the Brahma Samaj. He jumped into the freedom movement when he joined Mahatma Gandhi during the Civil Disobedience Movement.

He was instrumental in leading the movement in Bengal and was later elected as the Mayor of the erstwhile Calcutta Corporation. He went on to become an Indian National Congress leader. He remained in this post for 14 years as an Indian National Congress candidate, from 1948 until his death in 1962.

He was elected to the Bengal Legislative Council too. It was Mahatma Gandhi who insisted on his accepting the post of the second Chief Minister of West Bengal in 1948. In spite of a glorious political career, at heart, he remained a Doctor and was behind establishment of several medical institutions in Bengal.

An interesting glimpse into Dr. Roy's achievements is that he was the creator of five cities in Bengal - Bidhannagar - named after him and is the present Salt Lake City on the outskirts of Kolkata, the steel city of Durgapur, Kalyani. Ashok Nagar and Habra. Dr Roy passed away on his birthday in 1962, after 80 years of rendering dedicated service to the people of the world. In his name, the government instituted the Dr B C Roy National Award in the year 1976 to honour, respect and pay tribute to the philanthropic soul. He remained a bachelor and donated his house to be turned into a nursing home in Patna. He was honoured with the highest civilian award – Bharath Ratna - on February 4, 1961. In his honour, Doctors' day is celebrated on July 1st every year.

This Doctors' Day, we have to introspect on several issues concerning our Allopathic profession. The problems faced by us are many. They range from Mixopathy to Consumer Protection Act to increasing violence by patients, patient bystanders on our brethren. The stress of treating Corona patients is another problem. Through all these, we have remained unshaken. We have served the community around us very sincerely to the fullest of our capacity. Many of our colleagues have lost their lives battling the Pandemic and treating patients suffering from the Pandemic paying scant attention to their personal safety and the comfort of their homes, paying less attention to their own family lives. I am confident that we will emerge victorious in the battles facing us and we will live up to the high ideals for which Dr. B C Roy lived and practiced.

Through these columns, I would like to thank the sponsors of the 6th-10th issues of IMA KSB Focus - Builder of Rajani Gandha Apartment Bengaluru, IMA KPPS Scheme, IMA KSSS Scheme, IMAKHI Scheme, Management of Tejaswini Hospital Mangaluru, Management of Yenepoya Specialty Hospitality Mangaluru and Management of KMC Hospital Mangaluru for their generous gesture of sponsoring the issues of IMA KSB Focus.

May their tribe increase!

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dr. M. VENKATACHALAPATHY

Dear esteemed members,

It has been a mixed feeling of thoughts in the month of July. On one hand there was some respite & relief that Covid 2nd wave was coming to an end and on the other hand, the threat of Covid 3rd wave striking is looming large. There is lot of confusion created in whatsapp messages regarding impending 3rd Covid wave. Hence IMA Karnataka State Branch under academic sub-committee has started webinar series on every Wednesday to educate, equip and to clear all the doubts by experts. This programme is very much successful in the past 3 weeks and it will continue for few more weeks.

We were able to celebrate Safe Motherhood Week under Woman Doctors Wing very academically where many topics of great importance were discussed by all stakeholders.

In spite of our repeated appeals to the government, our Covid Martyrs have not got any financial relief, but nevertheless IMA Karnataka State Branch under IMA Karnataka Social Security Scheme has financially supported many Covid Martyrs and I am very happy that we could give Rs.95 lakhs to one of the Doctors family who lost his life because of Corona Last Week.

Every Sunday, we are interacting with IMA Headquarters, New Delhi to appraise them about various issues that we are facing & getting suitable inputs from them on many issues. One such issue is of the fire NOC that the health department is insisting, Now we have been called by the department to discuss this issue on 3rd of August where we plan to impress upon the administration to simplify and make it more Doctor friendly. Many branches celebrated Doctors day during the month of July and I was invited as chief guest at IMA Bengaluru Branch, IMA Mangaluru and IMA Tumkur.

We Doctors, as implied custodians of health of society have responsibility to raise to the occasion and help the public in distress. I take this opportunity to congratulate and thank the IMA Sirsi branch for their just & human cause of helping the people in distress due to floods. I feel it is a very apt example worth to be emulated by other branches.

Stay Safe

Long live IMA

VICE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dr. Dinesh Hegde

Major issues facing healthcare in 2021.

Greetings from Dr.Dinesh Hegde, Vice President, IMA-KSB.

Will a health system battered by the Pandemic emerge stronger in the year ahead?

The healthcare industry has six big challenges ahead in 2021:

- 1) Learning and adjusting new trend after the telehealth explosion.
- 2) Adjusting to changing clinical situations
- 3) Encouraging digital relationships that ease physician burdens;
- 4) Forecasting for an uncertain 2021
- 5) Reshaping health portfolios for growth;
- 6) Building a resilient and responsive supply chain for long-term health.

The PANDEMIC will affect not only Doctors and hospitals, it will have long lasting effects on health plan executives, Pharmaceutical industries, and consumers i.e our population at large.

While in 2020, many healthcare organizations saw their financial plans obliterated, patient behaviors radically shift and virtual care explode, in 2021 they will work to put the system back together,

1) Learning and adjusting new trend after the telehealth explosion : Nearly overnight, as volumes dropped precipitously, the deadly Pandemic thrust patients, Doctors, Pharmaceutical companies headfirst onto virtual platforms and other digital technologies that many had previously approached with hesitation. Doctors are forced to take up digital platforms for patient management, attending CMEs, and also for entertainment.

2) Adjusting to changing clinical situations : So many new things are coming up day in and day out. Healthcare workers are caught unaware many times. Everything appeared new and all were learning experiences. No one was sure about clinical findings, diagnostic methodologies, treatment options. Everyone had his own methods and trials. It was really challenging to cope up with all, attend all webinars and virtual conferences and then come to a conclusion and design your own to suit your practice, your patients, your geographic location.

3) Encouraging digital relationships that ease Physician burdens : Suddenly everything has become digital for which we Doctors have to learn first, then teach your staff, then your patient. It is a challenge for old practitioners who have been practicing traditional way since ages, suddenly to change to this new system is very difficult, but no other way.

4) Forecasting for an uncertain 2021 : Nobody knows what is there in store for the future. Everything appears a guess work. The experts say there will be 3rd wave again and another lock down. We have to prepare for this uncertainty. We have to keep the things ready for 3rd wave by stocking the drugs required, purchasing and repairing the equipments, providing more beds, keeping the staff in ready position to face this possible third wave. It should not happen like in 2nd wave where in we had shortage of Oxygen, beds, Drugs and staffs. What if there is no 3rd wave at all?.

5) Reshaping health portfolios for growth: In 2020 most of the hospitals and health care industries have taken a big beating. So they have to compensate for that and aim for growth in the coming year which needs planning properly and executing perfectly.

6) Building a resilient and responsive supply chain for long-term health : We need to build a very good supply chain which is more reliable and ready to face all uncertainties and consequences so that we will not be in similar problems in future .

Friends, we all have to gear up and get ready to face any situation which may arise in coming days. Let's be prepared mentally, physically, and psychologically to face these situations in coming days. Let's hope this Pandemic will come to an end soon and we will have normal life soon.

Thank you. Have a great year ahead.

Long live IMA

Dear Seniors & Friends of IMA,

Greetings from IMA Karnataka State Branch.

We as Allopathic Doctors are a bit relieved due to the decreasing trend in the infectivity & hospital admissions of the dreaded Covid infections. But though the authorities have relaxed the lockdown rules phase wise, we need to continue exercising the same precautions in our clinics, hospitals & institutions. Also, you as the ambassadors of health care should spread the importance of continuing the Covid appropriate behaviour among your known paramedical staff, people and patients.

All of us know that, just because Covid situations have been taken on a priority manner so far everywhere, the other health issues of people have not taken any holiday. Whenever we come across symptoms of infection, better to rule out other known conditions of infections before terming as Covid. Please note no letter directly received from branch or member will be acceptable for transfer of membership. Details of the transfer are known to your IMA branch office bearers. Kindly contact them.
